

Applause for the XX Award Winners

Our mid-year happy event, the XXX Award Presentation Ceremony, was held on MM DD, YYYY. A total of around XX awardees and guests attended, while CEO XXX, the Management Committee members and department heads were there to share the joy and excitement. Outstanding performers and project groups received recognition for their remarkable achievements and their exemplary demonstration of the core values of the Company.

At the event, XXX introduced the mechanism, the prizes and other details of the XXX Award programme. He expressed thanks to the YYYY Gold XXX Award Judging Panel members and welcomed the YYYY Gold XXX Award Judging Panel.

Awards presented at the Ceremony included the Individual Gold XXX Awards: XX awardees for the season (Oct – Dec YYYY) and XX awardees for the year YYYY; as well as the Annual Group Awards: XX groups receiving Merit, XX groups receiving the Silver Award and XX groups receiving the Gold Award.

In closing, CEO XXX expressed his heartfelt thanks to the awardees for their contributions to the Bank. He encouraged each of us to adopt positive thinking and attitudes when faced with difficulties. He also highlighted the importance of team work and innovation as the success of the Bank relies on each and every colleague to work together seamlessly with a common goal to achieve excellence. He remarked that the progress achieved by the Rose Garden project was a result of our collective effort and collaboration among departments and teams. XXX trusts that we are going to keep up the good work and strive further. He looks forward to seeing more colleagues and project groups receive the XXX Awards next year.

It could be you to receive the XXX Awards next year. If you are interested in learning more about the Award programme, please go check out the details at XXXX.
